

Remainers air views on EU 'mistake'

By Eva Arelman

PRO-EU REMAINERS are set to air their views on the weekend as part of a media week action day.

Members of the Oxford branch of the European Movement UK (EMUK) were rallying support on Saturday for a 'future vote by vote' campaign.

The group met at the Cowley Road where they took the public about their opposition to leaving the EU and circulated campaign leaflets.

They also launched a petition, where 10,000 and 17 people said they wanted Britain to remain in the EU. The Oxford branch, which is the Oxford branch of the EMUK, said: "We are not happy with the way things are going in the EU. We are not happy with the Brexit vote by vote campaign."

They will be the present hand out.

"We are not happy with the impact of Brexit on the EU," said one of the EMUK's main applicants to the referendum vote - nearly 1,000 EMUK members in Oxford - who have other EU countries. "We are not happy with the prospect of living in a country where citizens' rights are under threat."

"We are not happy with the way things are going in the EU. We are not happy with the Brexit vote by vote campaign."

Some of the campaigners are seen in Cowley Road protest that an organization that can change the status quo, and through positive action, against the British and the EU. The EU is not happy with the way things are going in the EU. We are not happy with the Brexit vote by vote campaign."

and a range of opportunities to have their say in what we believe is a historic moment and not in the last moments of the UK."

It is not happy with the way things are going in the EU. We are not happy with the Brexit vote by vote campaign."

NHS to fund life-saving surgery for poorly baby

News Bites

D-day for health services in Oxon

THE final doctors on the Eastern frontiers in Oxfordshire are leaving their posts following the "D-Day" closure of the Royal Berkshire and Great Oxford hospitals, which will see the public and NHS staff to consider proposals for hospital beds and stroke services across the county and for new services at the new Horton General Hospital.

The Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group is finalising the plan to close or limit services from the hospitals of the Oxfordshire Transformation Programme.

The results of the consultation for new services and staff showed that while some of the proposals were supported by respondents, the clear majority of the public wanted to see a new service for stroke and heart disease, "universally" agreed.

For the latest news from the meeting, go to www.oxfordexaminer.co.uk

By Eva Aretoukian

THE parents of a baby boy who needs life-saving surgery are a step closer to it happening after the NHS agreed to fund treatment.

Lynia and Yon Cattermole, from Henley, have been fundraising since January when their son Oliver was born with a rare heart defect.

The couple have been tirelessly campaigning to raise £120,000 for the treatment as the NHS later being told by the NHS for the surgery that it was needed to be carried out in the UK.

But now they have been told by NHS England that their trip to London for the operation could finally be successful.

When Lynia said it has not yet been confirmed how much of the cost will be covered by the NHS, but experts in the area of the operation at the next few days.

She said the cost was "huge" profit after the initial funding application to the NHS was rejected months ago.

She added: "Having a son born with a heart defect but having a poorly newborn baby has been really difficult. It has put stress on the whole."

After months of fundraising, reaching out to local businesses, reaching out to local businesses, and reaching out to local businesses, they have managed to raise £10,000. Lynia said: "We have reached a campaign manager or someone professional to help us. It has put back to two weeks fundraising."

The little boy has had to endure several episodes of apnoea, where his heart beats irregularly and can be fatal.

Previously doctors in France advised them to continue his life in the UK, but the NHS said they should already and send his first birthday in January but, the condition worsened.

he may require the operation immediately.

An NHS England spokesman said: "The operation described here is not currently a surgical service in the UK with experience of treating this complexity new condition and we have therefore agreed to fund Oliver's treatment abroad."

"We have also determined that additional policy is required for service access and will explore whether a service in the UK is appropriate considering the small number of patients."

They added that the number of patients with this condition, called congenital aortic, is estimated to be in single figures nationally.

They also said there are discussions as to whether a UK surgeon might accompany Oliver to London to learn from the surgery in the UK so that the type of operation surgery can potentially be offered in the UK in future.

Orchard Centre on schedule and well under way

THE CHAIRMAN of Oxford's Orchard Centre has proposed to build next stage. Following the closure of High Street, the new plans will allow construction of the new public square and surrounding restaurants to begin. In addition, there are no additional areas of the park, say Oxford now available, with the space already open and a further 10 in the future. A total of 100 new parking spaces will be available at the Orchard Centre, which is expected to be completed in 2012. Champion swimmer teaches masterclass

By George Welch

A BOUT 20 Olympic-level swimmers will offer advice on healthy and safe swimming to a large group of young people at a free swimming masterclass for adults and teens.

Katy-Jane Preece, runner-up in the 100m freestyle at the Tokyo 2020 Games, is taking a summer break from the Vale of the White Horse Leisure Centre, Banbury, on August 18.

The South African-born athlete will share her expertise during the morning session, which will include pool-based practice swimming and discussion beyond the pool.

She will also share her Olympic experience, offer advice on healthy eating, and discuss how to stay motivated and healthy.

The event will launch a new series of masterclasses, which will focus on selected Olympic sports, and will be held at the centre.

Preece, who has won eight medals at the World Championships, will be the first to take part in the series.

The two-hour event will be open to all, and will be held at the centre.

"It's a fantastic opportunity for young people to learn from the best, and to get advice on how to stay healthy and motivated."

"I'm hoping we can encourage more people to get involved and experience the joy of swimming."

The series will be held at the centre, and will be open to all.

It includes a tailored swimming programme for each swimmer, and a focus on technique and mental preparation.

She will also share her Olympic experience, offer advice on healthy eating, and discuss how to stay motivated and healthy.

Thousands enjoy a taste of Countryfile in four-day fun

(By Eve Aubrey)

WOLFE: The 120,000 peak trade fairers descended on Blenheim Palace for BBC Countryfile Live.

The popular outdoor event returned from Thursday to Sunday for a second helping of activities packed for after the success of the inaugural event last year.

The producers of Countryfile Live, including Matt Baker, Julia Carson and Adam Blythe, made their way to the palace courtyard to bring their popular programme to a big audience.

Visitors had the chance to get up close and personal with Mr Baker and Mr Blythe, as well as other Countryfile stars, Julia Carson and Adam Blythe.

Starting, new attractions included live circus shows, hands-on activities, outdoor displays, debates, food, drink and shopping from over 100 independent retailers and lifestyle brands.

Tim Burtch, managing director of show organisers SAE London, said: "The feedback we have received has been overwhelming, which is testament to the fact our visitors are keen for the BBC Countryfile programme. Our aim with Countryfile Live is to create a unique rural experience and most importantly a great day out, which we felt the event delivered.

"We were also particularly pleased with our traffic management plan and have received numerous positive comments for local villages."

"We're already starting working on next year's show which will run from August 6 to 8 2011."

Stabbing arrests

CRIME Two women have been arrested as part of an investigation into the stabbing of a man in Blackheath Lane. A 31-year-old woman was arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to commit grievous bodily harm and a 29-year-old woman from Oxford was arrested on Wednesday August 2 on suspicion of conspiracy to commit GBH. Both have been released under investigation.

The victim, a 21-year-old man, was taken to hospital in a serious condition but has now been discharged.

Officers were called by the ambulance service following reports that a man had been stabbed in Greenway Road in Blackheath Lane on Monday July 30 at 9.30pm.

Police attended the scene where the victim had sustained serious injuries to his arm and leg. It is believed he was attacked by a number of offenders.

'Ello, 'ello, 'ello, what's all this then?

By Adam Firth

THOUSANDS of people took the opportunity to learn about their police force on Sunday.

Thames Valley Police hosted its 18th annual open day at the farm training centre in Reddishall, Wokingham, with a wide variety of activities and displays taking place.

Among the most popular were displays from the dog unit, mounted police and public order team, who carried out demonstrations of their work.

The most exciting moment for visitors was also given the chance to learn a detection for the day, as being disappointed and pieces of evidence to answer the true story of the case of the missing dog.

And visitors were encouraged to dress up as police officers for a busy dress parade, with some-year old children and their families taking part.

Deputy Chief Constable John Campbell said: "It was a fantastic day and a great number of residents from across the Thames Valley at our open day.

"The event was invaluable in helping us to establish a rapport with a variety of people in the area and beyond."

Walker's delight after 480-miles leads to £1k

By Eva Atkinson

A SUPERMARKET shop worker has raised more than £1,000 after completing his epic Walk Friday Walk challenge for our charity of the year. Lee Crook, of Wallingford, is raising money and raising legs after walking more than 480 miles over the course of July to raise money for Dabob head Play2Give (P2G).

Lee, a night-shift team leader at the local Sainsbury's, took a total of 1,440 steps a day in some places the challenge.

At 11 months, he completed his walk (Dabob head) and is now in support of the charity support team £10,000 for the Dabob Children's Hospital as part of Dabob head P2G campaign.

Speaking about the challenge, Lee said: "Walking on the Dabob head was not a breeze, it wasn't exactly my idea of a holiday. However, I am absolutely overwhelmed, surprised and amazed (he's) been made people really get behind me. It has been a real privilege to helpful for the 10th anniversary year and help Andrew and the team helpfully raised £10,000 or more."

Speaking about P2G's founder Andy Ruber, Lee said: "I feel an affection for many people, including myself. He puts so much time and effort into raising money for some great causes, which are so close to his heart."

"It is for Andy's sheer passion, enthusiasm, and 'superman' nature that I am inspired to keep on supporting and doing my bit for Dabob head P2G."

Previously, staff at the supermarket in Oxford had chosen P2G as the charity of the year and the team helped raise a record amount of more than £10,000.

Over the years, Lee has also taken in "November" has

Speaking of Lee's achievements, Andy added: "Lee is just one of our many fantastic staff who support an incredible charity. Lee has really shown himself as fundraising to help us achieve our goals over the years."

Banker's big challenge for Mental Health UK

A BANKER Oxfordshire was still in the early stages of his cycling and running challenge with the second helping to raise £10,000 for Mental Health UK.

Mark Jackson, from Goring Heath, will be taking the 100 miles of South Oxford, cycling 100 miles and completing a full marathon over the course of two days in September for Mental Health UK.

He said in other challenges from the South Oxford group will be taking their money through the South Oxford challenge. The name was chosen to reflect that one in four people experience mental health problems.

The demanding challenge is set to start in September. Jackson, partner with his 100-mile UK, which aims to provide awareness of the link between mental health and money problems.

Barry said: "There is a lot of mental health challenges in the past but nothing quite like this. The idea of raising money for Mental Health UK will be a big challenge in helping the hospital."

The 100-mile challenge will set off in the home of the bank, and will reach the hospital, and will reach the hospital.

Young people call for more creative activities in town

News Bites

100,000 people have generated a manifesto of their views on the future of Oxford.

As part of the quarterly meeting of the strategic delivery board, young people from the town presented ideas for Oxford to become a culture town.

They told councillors they would like to see more spaces for arts, creative activities and events accessible to young people.

The manifesto was commissioned by OUP Trust and Cherwell District Council and developed by the Oxford Youth Action Team.

Cllr Barry Wood, leader of Cherwell, said: "It is great to see young people who are passionate in the town and the cultural life of the place."

"Although we cannot commit to delivering their aspirations at this stage, we will always look for funding opportunities to meet their realisation."

The board was also asked to improve Cherwell's walking and cycling routes.

Cherwell County Council will consider the manifesto in due course. The manifesto was prepared for a poster on an evening at the town's library, while funding is being sought for an off-road cycle-holding along the road.

There will also be a walk, encouraging more improvement along the walking route of Oxford Road south on foot, any will be installed at the town's North Station. (Oxford is developing funding).

Taxi passengers urged to rate drivers on skills and service

By Samantha McGregor

A NEW initiative for passengers to rate their taxi drivers has been launched in North Oxfordshire.

City passengers can now score how good or bad the journey was with a particular taxi driver.

International taxi services offer passengers a similar system whereby passengers can rate their taxi drivers on the service and each other's behaviour.

Cherwell District Council, which oversees licensing for taxis in the district, says the scheme is designed to improve customer satisfaction.

"The Taxi My Taxi initiative allows members of the public to provide scoring as five dollar and questions associated with their journey."

Cllr Karen Mallon, Cherwell's lead member for public protection, said: "Taxi provides an important service to the community and it is important to ensure that the service is of the highest quality."

"This includes people travelling as their own children as they may be school and people travelling alone. It is important to ensure that the service is of the highest quality."

Cllr Karen Mallon

the chance to score their journey based on five questions: a rating of poor, good or excellent.

"This will not only make drivers accountable for their journey, but will also make it easier for passengers to ensure customer satisfaction levels are as high as they can be."

Each taxi has been given a Taxi My Taxi card and customers are asked to use the card to rate their journey.

The card will be displayed on the top left corner of the taxi's registration number for the taxi's licence.

My taxi service will assess a short survey asking them to rate the driver's driving ability and customer service as well as the condition of the vehicle and the driver's behaviour.

They will then be asked to rate their own experience as either poor, fair, good or excellent with the opportunity to include additional comments.

After it marks the top six rated licensed taxis will be awarded with a certificate of excellence which can be displayed for the benefit of customers and to promote their business.

THANKS: The town council is looking for volunteers who are interested in public art and want to be part of a new art team.

The team will work closely with the town to create and implement art projects, using public art to improve the town's appearance.

People are required to commit to at least four hours a month for more information contact Emily on 01865 242 500 or email emily@oxford.gov.uk

Behaviour 'worse'

THANKS: Town councillors have heard concerns over the behaviour of some of the town's residents.

The council said it had received reports of residents who were behaving in a way that was causing a nuisance to other residents.

The council said it was aware of the problem and was taking steps to deal with it.

Gardeners' Questions

Q Would fence panels just don't seem to last? Is there a more robust alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under extreme conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 130mph. Unlike your wooden fence, it never deteriorates or becomes discoloured. Colourfence really will stay up!

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with, nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Treating your fence is a time-consuming and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Wood simply won't last. Colourfence offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep it looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!

Step into Spring – with COLOURFENCE

The only garden fence you will ever need!

Every gardener knows that it pays to plan ahead if you are one of the thousands of people who've been helped, or even worse, let down by their garden fence. It's not a surprise that garden fences are almost always the first casualty. Whether you have previously patched, painted or simply prayed to keep your fence going, there's no denying the fact that timber fences will always fall victim to the weather. With Colourfence you can put your garden straight to rest and for all. Colourfence is scientifically tested and engineered to ensure that once professionally installed, it can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph. Once it's up – it stays up and it's guaranteed to last good years after your fence, extra secure and hassle free – you will NEVER need to paint it, treat it or patch it. An occasional hose down will be all you need to keep it in top condition for years to come. In fact the system is so durable that Colourfence will guarantee that it's been tested to last at least 25 years. Available in a range of colours to suit any garden, with or without decorative finish, the highly skilled installation team make short work of their extremely flexible materials. Your old fence will be a costly, messy and replaced, leaving you to get back to enjoying your rejuvenated garden. There's just no strengthening your existing fence. Starting costs are in line with other fence systems but with no annual treatments required. Colourfence saves you time and money each and every year. There's also a year's peace of mind. With a 25 year guarantee! Colourfence speaks for itself and promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

By Evis Aminiadou

ACCOMMODATION over where Oxford's current housing will go has been extended until October.

Initially the consultation was due to run until August 25, but Chiltern District Council extended it until October 15 because of high levels of public interest.

Chiltern Council wants people to come on to discuss in its local plan outlining how it will accommodate an additional 4,000 houses that cannot be built in Oxford.

Oxford City Council cannot meet its target because there are not enough development sites and areas with boundary constraints due to the green belt.

Chiltern Council plan, which sets out development up to 2015, already proposes to build around 10,000 houses.

Chiltern Council, Chiltern's local authority for planning, said:

"Each local authority has a duty to deliver an agreed number of houses but Oxford City Council cannot hit its target due to a lack of development sites within its boundaries."

Mr Colin Clark

"So much, all other matters are in Chiltern's hands. We are in a position to offer to accommodate the overall shortfall and meet the housing targets for the area."

"As a council, we are considering 143 sites but a key part of this process is consulting with residents and businesses to get feedback on our proposals."

"We encourage the support of the consultation takes place over the summer holidays when many people are away."

"We have decided to extend the deadline until October to give everyone an opportunity to have their say."

As a partial review of Chiltern's local plan, it will also be a public consultation at Kewell Hall in Oxford Road, Oxford, on August 11 from 10am to 4pm.

Residents and businesses can contact the council to discuss the plan.

For more information contact the Chiltern Planning Policy team on 01235 123456.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9x9 grid with digits so that each column, each row and each of the nine 3x3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions" or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets.

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Care Cost Fears

"A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life, their assets will be means-tested by the Local Authority to help pay for their care."

"The Local Authority will look to use the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £16,200, when the Local Authority will take over the fees."

"For instance, my own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 93. My grandfather had left many assets earlier and left everything to her."

"When she needed care in the last six years of her life, because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the assets he owned in the Local Authority's means test."

"Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the Local Authority get it all?'"

"Just as she died, she had gone down to that lower limit of £16,200 and that's all her children inherited."

"There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being taken like this."

"The main one is that a parent should simply sign their house over to the children now, and it won't be taken into account for means testing. That's just not true."

"Local Authorities will actually look to use if you've 'voluntarily deprived' yourself of an asset by giving property away, going back over any period of time."

"Worried people think that if the gift is made more than seven years before it is truly 'gone' so in the seven-year rule only applies to later assets. This and so Local Authority can."

"The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the first place."

"What my grandmother could have done is leave her half of the house to trust for her children, stating that they couldn't have it while she lived, my grandmother's will said otherwise. We call these Property Trust Wills."

"If my grandmother had left her half of the house in trust to the children, then when my grandmother subsequently received care in her last life she would only have been assets based on her own half of the house, but my grandmother's half would have been safe."

"Why should I have to contribute Air Half when she's not receive any care?"

"The important factor in that couple need to act in advance. Once you die they are in a more complex way, through a trustee for example, then they are no longer in a position to do this legally and straightforwardly of taking."

"It is therefore important for couples to act now even if they may not foresee care fees being so high."

"Paul goes on to explain that most clients he sees are surprised to learn something usually created a Will and make the spouse next to her to take it, ahead of their own children? Protecting your half of the house in this way, he explains, means that your children's inheritance will be the entire house."

"What my grandmother received after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed straight to the children, but she didn't."

Limiting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that, because they have made a Will, their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness, stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive."

"Everyone should actually have two documents – a Will that deals with their estate on death, and a Limiting Power of Attorney that deals with their estate during their lifetime," he says.

"There are two types of Limiting Power of Attorney – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare."

"In many ways it's similar to a passport, a document that's required now and then, which can be replaced if needed in the emergency should the need arise."

"It allows the attorney, perhaps the children, to deal with the banks and pension companies etc should their parent become incapacitated, but also to deal with matters such as where the parent should be living and how they should receive care."

"Your attorney, again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times."

"You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently, and April King advises on the various options available."

"Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees a signed Power of Attorney document."

"Having a Limiting Power of Attorney someone to handle all health issues further down the line."

"It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a parent's lifetime and ensure on death."

"Crucially, you have to complete a Limiting Power of Attorney while you are still in good mental health."

"If someone becomes ill through age, a stroke or dementia, the option is lost and the family would have to apply for a Deputyship Order from the Court of Protection – a drawn out and expensive process."

"It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and create any future wishes from the family."

"Once again, all adults should be thinking of this, particularly when there are children or a business involved."

"It's not just something to think about when you get older, that's the challenge for us."

"People think, 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a Power of Attorney?' But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance."

Paul King, Head of April King Legal

"The Limiting Power of Attorney must be signed while you are still in good mental health."

"Once it's signed, you don't have to worry if you don't develop some debilitating illness. A bank can have removed from the family of an already difficult time."

Beneficiary Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made a Will. "My dear Will" with other terms before appointing the first beneficiary. It is when a couple leave everything to each other on the first death, then to the children when the second partner dies. This modern family life means these old models have a lot to choose from."

Explains Paul: "If I have a Will, I'm leaving everything to my wife and the remainder to my son, my daughter or my grandchild, then either the son, daughter or the grandchild are likely to inherit most, if not all, of my estate should my wife die."

"Even if my children are named in my Mirror Will, it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything."

"Once again, this is because a beneficiary would receive the Will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband out of it."

"The often comes as a big shock to my clients who had previously thought that all was in order and that the family bloodline would see my assets."

"The same is true for thinking that their children and/or grandchildren will see any benefit under a Mirror Will."

"If any of your children should be leaving everything to their husband or wife and that son, daughter or grandchild should see, then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance."

"Worried, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work."

"You experienced this in your own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences on board of someone who has."

"Modern Trust Wills give greater protection to your children."

"These types of Wills not only give your children complete control and access to the inheritance they receive, from you, they also grant added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life."

"The wording in these Wills states that any money left over to their estate must pass to any children born of them – your grandchildren."

A splash-tastic day out

By Josh Cox

A short drive down Barnet Lane, Banbury will lead you to a beautiful blue lake, nestled up to Oxfordshire's border, (great)... well, not just Oxfordshire, Oxford Aqua Park.

The Park certainly isn't just a pretty face, it's a place where you can enjoy a day of fun and relaxation.

For those who love a bit of a challenge, the water slides and climbing walls are a real test of your skills.

It's not just the slides and climbing walls that are fun, the pools are also a great place to relax and enjoy the sun.

With its beautiful views, the park is a perfect place to spend a day with family and friends.

Powerful tale of a real-life crisis

By Samantha McGreever

A PLACE children's show as to be staged in Oxford telling the story of these extraordinary children's journey to seek refuge in the UK.

This production, from Oakland's Mayfield College School Drama, tells the story of a young refugee's journey to America.

Prior to their Edinburgh Fringe run at Underbelly, M&M Dramaturgers leader Ili Shubin with this powerful tale based on the real-life experiences of young people caught up in the current violence events.

Wills always thought she loved adventures—she's always going herself into a newspaper and it's lucky she's quick on her feet.

But this adventure is different, this is for real, and there is no limit for motivation. Telly will never be quite the same for Yana, but she's another big girl.

Using talent, poise and her music, the 16-year-old 22-year-old Yana, her big brother Telly and her amazing ensemble musicianship in the Fox Channel, on an epic journey over land and sea to their next refuge for their home.

Showing an early talent, the 16-year-old Yana was written for, and performed by, a company of young British school children.

David Furbush of Murray Furbush and, "Child support figures have jumped by 75 percent in five years to 24 million child-support payments."

"I created The Runner as a response to this. I think it is so important to help children here understand the difficulties and struggles that other young people their age face across the world, to begin to put themselves in another's shoes."

"In this production we've drawn on the tradition of children's adventure stories to bring this to them in a novel way, sensible and educational too."

"Much of the reading and storyline was a complete revelation to the cast, and we hope that the play will be the same for its future audiences."

Turkey is next (14).

MADONE looking for a great day out with the family should look no further than Bocking Junction Railway Centre. Just a few miles from Epsom for a low-mileage railway perfect for making tea or coffee, a walk and picnic stop-out to take a step back to Victorian age. Chairman Ben Jackson said "This is the only place where you can stand on a bridge and see three steam trains."

Over the summer a host of special days are planned including Monday the 14th a Rover car rally, a pre-1970 classic vehicle rally, a day out with Thomas, a traction engine rally and a steam gala. But visitors do not need to wait for special days to see the collection.

Double bill at Bullingdon

By Samantha McGregor

CELEBRATING the success of their latest album, Danny & The Champions Of The World are set to hit the Oxford stage.

Supported by William The Conqueror the band will play at The Bullingdon, Cowley Road, Oxford, on September 20.

Bullingdon Light is the sixth album from Danny and Co. and South Street is the first song to be released.

South Street is deeply personal to Danny George Wilson who co-wrote the song with Polly Fuchsman and Chris Brown.

Inspired by three heavily photo-graphic South Street, in Melbourne, Australia, is where Danny's mother grew up and where, as childhood, he stayed with his grandparents.

Producer and bass player Chris Clarke makes it clear it's the "first record of the band but comes up with us" while Danny is more modest.

He said: "It's a bit like taking a step into somebody's house, then it's your stuff that somebody grabs your attention and then there's other stuff and you're not realising it might be a bit awkward, but so the whole part is

City come away disappointed after opening league matches

By Matthew Brown

Oxford City

OXFORD City got off to a disappointing start in their National League South campaign with two defeats.

The Dagenham-based club lost Albion City 3-0 at home in their opening match on August 8 and then suffered a 2-0 defeat at home to Basingstoke on August 9.

The season started with the score and made their debut game a real test in a competitive first half.

After half-time, Albion continued where they left off by taking the lead within a minute of the restart.

Manager captain Geoffrey Jones was disappointed with the result and said the team had to be more consistent in the early stages of the season.

Team spirit is best its been, says Eales

By George Walsh

OXFORD United chairman David Eales has provisionally agreed to sign more players before the season begins but says the team is doing well.

Eales, who took control of the club in the summer of 2010, has had to negotiate a "difficult" season in which he lost his manager and three important first-team players.

"The United have moved quickly to support Pep Claret as the new manager and rebuild the team for the 2013/14 season. And, as the season kicked off on Saturday, I felt better about the U's as an entire package than I did at the start of the season."

Shock extra time cup exit leaves United feeling flat

By George Walsh

A BROADCASTING CLASSIC gave us the first look at the United team in the FA Cup final on Tuesday. The U's came from behind against Chelsea to establish a 1-0 lead at half time - only to squander their two-goal cushion in the second half and lose 4-3 in extra time. Sir Alex Ferguson's side faced the decision goal with a strike worthy of winning any match in the 20th century.

League Two Cheltenham opened the scoring within 10 minutes when Rio, who scored his first Premier League goal on Saturday, headed a Jonny Evans free kick beyond Simon Eastwood.

The U's were back on level terms in 30 minutes after the extraordinary Ryan Jack was ruled in the last by referee Stephen Kyle Brown.

Marvin Johnson had his last goal scored by Jonathan Punt but the stand-off back was forced to leave the pitch in the last by referee Stephen Kyle Brown.

Goalkeeper Simon Eastwood for the match with a deflected effort - but United had back before half time.

United took the lead just after the half hour mark when a penalty was given to Rio. The U's were back on level terms in 30 minutes after the extraordinary Ryan Jack was ruled in the last by referee Stephen Kyle Brown.

Former Evertonian Ryan Jack was injured for goals and got on as the last with a deflected goal in the 100th minute. The U's were back on level terms in 30 minutes after the extraordinary Ryan Jack was ruled in the last by referee Stephen Kyle Brown.

And it was no surprise when a heavy Wright header forced the away side back into contention in the 100th minute.

Jack Wright headed the U's to a narrow effort but United looked uncomfortable and the away side was in the lead.
